

The Cabin Series

Our cabins can be your oasis in the office - a place to reflect, respond and reconnect.

The Cabins provides you with a quiet calm place for private meetings or personal calls. They can even be an office or larger meeting room. Our cabins are unitized meaning you can start with a double unit today and add as many units together as you need - WHEN you need them. Its the ultimate flexibility and customization with 3 - 4 week deliveries.

The IMT Cabin Series has a slim modern look with rounded corners and clean lines. Front and back vision panels are our standard 10mm tempered glass. Doors close cleanly with our magnetic locks on double acoustically sealed doors. You have a choice of multiple exterior finishes with optional seismic bracing (if required) with no modification to the overall look or function.

IMT Cabin Series Assembly

Set all the components on the floor and join together.

2.

Attach the glass back panel.

3.

Attach the front door panel and ENJOY!

The frames are delivered to the site as a pre-manufactured structure ready for assembly and can be easily assembled with just a few flush mounted screws. Hidden lockable casters in the floor structure means that if you assemble it in one place today, you can easily move it to a new location in minutes without specialized tools or hardware. Even the predrilled sprinkler knockout can be removed with a simple hit of a hammer.

 Ki Ventilation

 Kme Kwe Kteam Ventilation

Air is exchanged in each unit from vent openings hidden in the floor and side wall panels. An air circulation system in the ceiling will draw the air through the unit up and out the ceiling panels. The number of vents and fan units increase proportionally as the unit sizes increase and exceeds ANSI/BIFMA standards.

Cabin can be “added on to” as your needs change from the cabin Kme, Kwe Series and upwards. The only limit to how deep you want to make the units is the floor space available.

Private and Soundproof Workspace

IMT offers a quiet space for all to enjoy a productive and peaceful day at work. We offer cabins to fit the needs of any office, lobby, library or convention space and countless other applications. These Cabins offer a quiet space to work, meet or have a phone or virtual conversation. Designed with comfort in mind each cabin will give its user the space and privacy they need to get the job done.
